Mass Meeting Friday On Hospital Issue

Hospital Meeting

(An Editorial)

One of the most important meetings in recent years will be held in Canyon Community Center Building at 8:30 o'clock Friday night.

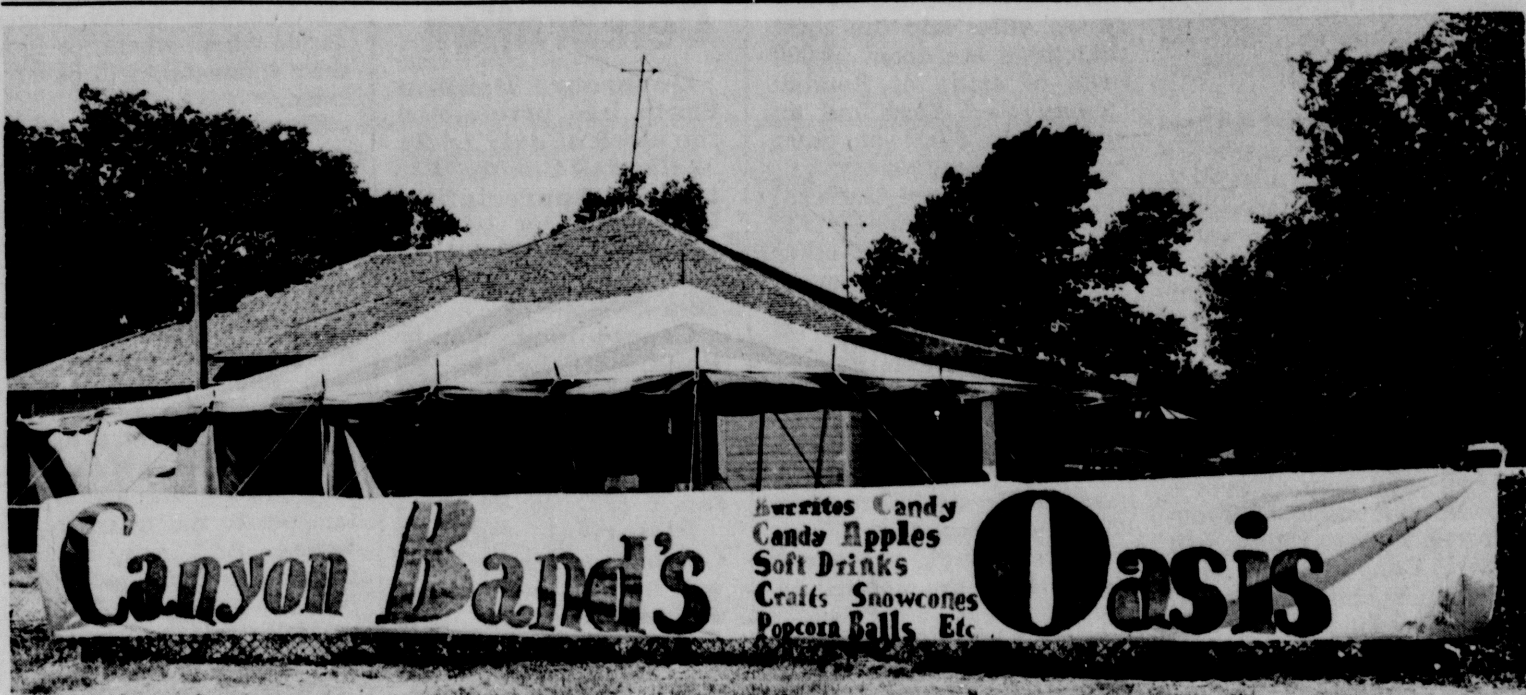

There will be an open discussion on whether the community should form a hospital district, vote an $800,000 bond issue and undertake construction of a 50-bed hospital.

A panel made up of doctors and laymen will be on hand to answer questions.

Of course there will be some questions for which answers are not readily available. The Canyon News will record these questions and make every effort to obtain and publish answers before the hospital district and bond issue election is held July 27.

It is of the utmost importance that you be at this meeting. If your schedule conflicts we strongly advise you to rearrange your schedule and be at the Community Building Friday night.

It will be your hospital. The bond issue will be your debt. This is your best opportunity to satisfy yourself as to the need for this facility which will be designed to serve Canyon for many years to come.

This oasis was opened by Canyon High School Band to provide refreshments for band camp kids and also to raise money for the Eagle Band trip to the band festival in Vienna next year. It is open from 9 until 9 daily.

Accreditation Question Aired

BY TROY MARTIN

Two of three area hospital administrators interviewed by The News look upon accreditation as almost mandatory.

The third says it is desirable but not absolutely necessary.

The three administrators operate hospitals for hospital districts at Dumas, Tulia and Hereford.

Frank Cheevers, administrator at Dumas Memorial Hospital, says accreditation is a must.

His hospital is not accredited but he hopes it will be soon.

"Once you are accredited the federal will stay off your back," he declared. "If you are accredited they will inspect once every three years. If you're not accredited they inspect every 90 days."

"You meet one set of requirements and they are back in three months with 50 more to be met."

"Accreditation is one thing you don't want to lose. We've been through more hell than anyone in the country."

Memorial Hospital is an 80-bed facility operated by a hospital district.

The district has a 10 cent levy on a 10 percent of valuation used solely to retire a $400,000 bond.

"It's peanuts," he declared. Cheevers said the Dumas hospital is run on a self-supporting basis. Not only do revenues taken in pay for day to day operation of the hospital but enough is laid aside to pay for a great deal of the new equipment installed from time to time.

"The hospital is just a business and it should be run like a business," Cheevers asserted.

The Dumas hospital has a (see HOSPITAL, page 11)

Offense Looks Good

Eagle Prospects Viewed

BY TROY MARTIN

Coach Ron Mills knows better than most people that you can't have everything and his 1971 Canyon Eagle football aggregation is no exception.

Last year the Eagles had one of the best defensive teams in Texas AAA football but they couldn't get the pigskin across the double stripe enough times to be in contention.

This year the tables are reversed. Mills will have a great striking force but will be faced with the dilemma of repairing a defense riddled by graduation.

"Our biggest problem will be replacing defensive people we lost," Mills lamented. "Canyon probably had one of the best defensive teams in the history of the school last year."

Several members of that defense will be wearing college livery this fall.

Gone from the ranks of the defense are John Lewis, Darrell Breitling, Rick Hales, Jim Boyce, John Dodson, Kelly Tinsley, Frank Belcher, Jerry Carile and Gary Gerber.

Such stalwarts as Randy Stark, Frank Garrett, Alan Bedell and Mike Swartzell were lost to the offense.

Mills has high hopes for the scoring punch of his offense this fall.

"We will run four different sets," he revealed. The basic set will be pro-type. He will rely on the wing T and the Wishbone and will spread the ends most of the time.

"With the competition we're going to have we will throw the football a lot," Mills declared.

Mills said veteran Chuck Wright will have the inside track at quarterback. He will be pushed by Bill Moore, a junior, and Mike Shaddix, a senior.

beinteresting to the fans."

Mike Podzemny and Fred Grona have been tapped for ends. Mills thinks Podzemny may be the best end in the area.

"Our big problem is going to be stopping the other team from scoring," Mills went on. "It looks like we may be in good shape for linebackers and ends but we have no depth at any defense (see EAGLE, page 11)

Bond Vote, District Formation Are Topics

A mass meeting to discuss a proposed hospital district and an $800,000 bond issue will be held at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening in Canyon Community Center Building.

Proponents of the bond issue and hospital district hope to see a new 50-bed hospital costing upwards of $1.5 million constructed. If approved, boundaries of the district will coincide with Randall County Commissioner Precinct 3.

Hill-Burton funds will be sought to supplement money provided through the bond issue.

Moderator for the meeting will be Clarence Eugene Thompson. Members of the panel to answer questions from the audience will be Dr. Dudley Moore, Dr. Charles R. Nester, Bill Sternberg and Vernon Harman.

Fate of the district and bond issue will be decided in balloting July 27. Absentee voting already is under way at Canyon city hall and will continue through July 23. So far balloting has been light.

Members of the temporary hospital board have invited interested citizens to attend the meeting and ask questions about the proposed bond issue and hospital district.

Proponents of the new hospital are most concerned about possible loss of accreditation by Neblett Memorial Hospital here.

Ray Grimes, hospital business manager, said the quality of the hospital is not deteriorating but the standards set for accreditation have been systematically raised over the years and the Canyon hospital is in danger of being left behind.

Officials who inspect area hospitals for accreditation purposes are critical of the Canyon hospital from a standpoint of hospital safety and fire regulations. Accreditation is now being given Neblett on a year to year basis whereas it once was given in three-year terms.

Grimes said whereas a hospital such as the one in Tulia can continue to operate without accreditation, the Canyon hospital would find it much more difficult because it does not measure up to medicare's standards on fire safety and physical plant as the Tulia hospital does.

Cam Davis Plays With All-Stars

Cam Davis, Canyon's all-state guard, will play for the north in the 1971 North-South All-Star girls basketball game in Brownwood Saturday night.

The game will be played at 8 o'clock in the air-conditioned Brownwood Coliseum.

Miss Davis played on the all-state team of 1970 and again on the runnerup team of 1971. She was an all-state forward in 1970 and an all-state guard this year.

She is believed to be the only player in the history of schoolgirl basketball to hold all-state honors in both positions.

The Saturday night game is sponsored by the Texas High School Girls Coaches (see ALL-STARS, page 11)

Museum To Lose Texanna Library

The unique Nita Stewart Haley Library, an extremely valuable Texanna collection, will be removed from Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Miles Hart, Glen Rose, trustee for the library announced the removal Wednesday saying he does not know where the library finally will be placed.

The library was collected over a period of many years by Evetts Haley, Sr., and is named in memory of Haley's late wife.

Hart, who often acts as attorney for Haley, said the wording of legislation passed by the recent legislature concerning the museum made it imperative that the library be removed.

He said removal would be completed by Sept. 1.

Legislation to which Hart referred came in the wake of a tumultuous meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society April 30. At that meeting a slate of candidates backed by Haley was rejected and a slate endorsed by former senator Grady Hazlewood was elected.

Hart pinpointed the museum appropriations bill noting that it made no provision for employment of Mrs. Velma Larson, librarian for the Nita Stewart Haley Library.

Hart said the trustees could not leave such a valuable collection in the museum without being certain who would be in charge of it.

"It's a terrible thing but I see nothing else to do," the attorney declared.

Hart said the library would be moved to the Haley home for the time being. Not all of the collection had yet been placed in the museum and much of it already is housed in the library at the Haley home.

He said he is not even certain that it will be kept in the Amarillo area.

"We'll have to select another place to put it on display," he asserted. "Most any college or school would be glad to have it. It is very valuable and we are particular about where it goes and how it is (see LIBRARY, page 11)

City Manager Lists 3 Canyon Priorities

City Manager George Louder told members of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce the city had three major priorities: a new city park, a summer youth program and the city library.

Louder spoke to the group Tuesday night on the Springer report, and explained that Springer had recommended the areas around the creeks which surround Canyon be kept as open areas and used as parks.

He also noted that the city has begun work on the summer youth program this year with the first of such a program.

"We expect to have at least the same size program again next year," he said.

Louder was questioned about future plans for city library, and he said the city commission will discuss the library at the regular meeting tonight.

During a question and answer period following his talk, the city manager was quizzed about what a city can do to keep undesirable businesses and industries from building near the city limits.

"Our hands are virtually tied," Louder said. "Because a county does not have zoning regulations like a city does, and consequently, any industry can be built anywhere within the county and the city can do almost nothing about it."

He noted that both Amarillo and Canyon officials are concerned about industrial growth between the two cities.

"The only way we could control what goes in there is to annex the property, and we can not just indiscriminately annex land," he continued.

He pointed out that a city should have a definite plan about annexation of property.

Louder emphasized that (see CITY, page 11)

A.P. Sanford, left, and Jimmy Plain, both chairmen of the sixth annual world championship arena Pony Express tournament, demonstrate the basic maneuvers involved in the relays. The Randall County Sheriff's Posse will not enter a team in the Pony Express, but will sponsor the tournament.

Pony Express Race To Be Rescheduled

BY JERRY MONTGOMERY

The sixth annual world championship arena Pony Express tournament originally set for July 23-24 will be rescheduled due to the state quarantine on horses, said Blaine Hufnagle, secretary of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse.

The Pony Express tournament was planned in conjunction with the Canyon Days celebration. Directors of the tournament will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Sheriff's Posse Clubhouse to discuss the rescheduling of the tournament.

"We will discuss a new date for the tournament and we have at least a two-week and possibly a three-week wait," Hufnagle said.

Dr. J. L. Markham, veterinarian, said he expects to receive the vaccine for the disease from Amarillo Friday. Horses may not be moved within the 14 day waiting period following the vaccination. Dr. Markham will be giving vaccinations at his office on the Hereford highway upon receipt of the vaccine which is being distributed statewide from Austin. Horses will also be vaccinated in Amarillo. News media will be informed of the receipt of the vaccination in order to (see PONY, page 11)

CANYON RIM

The wet or dry question is an emotional subject in this part of the country.

Here in Canyon it has a chance to get on the ballot for the first time since prohibition was repealed in the early 1930s.

But I think that chance is slim.

Yank Mainville is trying to get 894 signatures on a petition to call it to a vote. I predict he's going to have a hard time getting those names.

I seriously doubt that he will get that number in Justice of the Peace Precinct 1. Few businessmen would sign such a petition simply because doing so would undoubtedly bring repercussions, maybe even boycott, from people who are against it.

I talked to Dorothy Meehan who is pushing a liquor by the drink vote in South Amarillo. She says that with less than a quarter of her allotted 30 days gone she is well on her way to getting the more than 3,000 signatures necessary to bring the question to a vote in Justice of the Peace Precinct 4.

Texas has some of the most hypocritical liquor laws in the 50 states.

Texas law permits the opening of a liquor by the drink establishment in Canyon right now by anyone willing to go to the trouble to do it. A number of such establishments flourish in Amarillo.

In dry Hereford there were 11 places of business serving liquor by the drink not long ago. At that time Hereford had its own liquor control agent. It may still have, since I haven't checked lately.

It appears likely that the liquor question will go to the ballot box in South Amarillo.

The battle will be bitter there but it will be nothing to compare with the one that will rage in Precinct 1 if by some miracle Mainville gets enough signatures to force an election here.

Impact of teenage voting is not going to be felt much in Randall County this year but it may well decide the course of the county at some time in the future.

Tax Assessor Audrey Bruse says only about 400 youngsters registered to vote this year but count on this number to swell next year.

If the courts decide students may register to vote as residents of the community in which they attend college, then students at West Texas State University are going to have a lot to say about the future of Canyon and Randall County.

If they ever decide to vote as a bloc — hardly likely — they could decide that future. However, I think we're going to find that teenage voters can be just as diverse in their opinions and choices as older voters.

Don Dean, presiding judge of the 181st District Court, Tuesday said he has ruled that voters under 21 still are not able to sit on juries in civil cases.

He said he has not made a ruling on their eligibility for jury service in criminal cases.

Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen says the teenage voters are also ineligible for jury service in the latter cases.

Amarillo is faced with the possibility of forced busing to achieve racially balanced schools.

Some parents are upset with the prospect of having children bussed across town.

This could spur Canyon's growth. A number of Amarillo residents say they will move to Canyon rather than have their children bussed to strange schools.

Downtown
Merchants
Plan Sale

Canyon Downtown Merchants voted Monday to stay open until 9 p.m. and sponsor a street dance July 22 as part of the Canyon Days Celebration, July 23-24.

The merchants agreed to ask the city to rope off the inside streets of Fifth Ave. and 16th Street around the square during the afternoon and evening.

A band will play later in the evening for a street dance, and the Canyon High School Eagle Band will be allowed to open and run concession stands during the day in order to make money for their 1972 Vienna, Austria trip.

Commissioners
Set Livestock
Values For Tax

Randall County commissioners Monday agreed to set the tax rate at the next meeting of the court which will be held Monday of next week.

Commissioners Monday also decided on values to be placed on livestock for taxing purposes.

Only major change was on cattle. Weaning calves will be placed on the rolls at $50 with animals 1 to 2 years old at $75 and 2 year olds at $100.

David Stevens of the county tax office told the court that there are about 50,000 head of cattle at Randall County Feed Yard and an additional 16,000 at other feed yards in the county.

Stevens made several recommendations for changes in values of other livestock but the commissioners decided not to accept his suggestions.

Horses remain on the rolls at $133 with a valuation of $200 for registered horses. Hogs remain at $27. The number of sheep and chickens in the county are negligible, Stevens reported.

Stevens said registered stock seldom are reported as such.

In other business the court voted to purchase a filing cabinet from Western Office Supply of Amarillo at $54.17 for the county agent's office.

Refunds were granted to three taxpayers who had been overcharged through error and county officials were authorized to give deeds on Amarillo property sold recently for taxes.

Enrollment
Up At WT

Students enrolling for the second summer term at West Texas State University totaled 2,200 when regular registration ended Monday.

The number represents an increase of 25 over the 2,175 recorded the same time in 1970.

Late registration will continue through 4 p.m. Thursday.

County Sets
Appreciation
Celebration

Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed the week of July 18-24 as Randall County History Appreciation Week as part of the Canyon Days Celebration scheduled for July 23-24.

County Judge Woody Pond said the proclamation came through efforts made by the Randall County Historical Survey Committee.

Historical Survey Committee members will make a dedication of pictures to the county courthouse during ceremonies July 24 at Conner Park at the noon barbecue.

Church Picnic
Slated Sunday

First United Methodist Church members and guests will participate in a church picnic Sunday afternoon at Ceta Canyon Methodist Church Camp south of Canyon.

Swimming, hiking, games and visitation will begin at the camp grounds at 3:30 p.m. followed at 6:30 with an old fashion basket supper.

Each family is requested to bring enough food for their family plus one. College students and band camp members are invited to come as guests.

Drinks, bread, dishes and silver will be furnished. A nursery will be conducted at the camp.

Rev. Hubert Thompson will speak for a devotional period at 8 p.m. and Terry Milligan is in charge of the entertainment.

Anyone needing a ride to the picnic should contact the church this week.

down laws that have governed civilized peoples almost from the dawn of recorded history.

The tragedy of the purloined Pentagon papers is not the information they contained, nor even the aid and comfort they gave to our mortal enemies. Disaster lies in the fact that a trusted employee can rob his employer with impunity.

Decisions of the same 9 have made it impossible for the country brave men purchased with their blood.

Parents have been deprived of the control of their own children. They can no longer decide when, where, or how their youngsters will be educated.

The most unlearned stockman knows his herds must be improved through good breeding; lush pastures are not the answer. Yet all the ills of mankind are supposed to be eliminated through improving the diet and environment.

In this competitive age, our very survival may depend on genius and skill. Yet the highest per capita expenditure of the taxpayers' dollar goes to the mentally retarded. And any scholar with a Phi Beta Kappa key is admonished to keep it carefully hidden in a jewelry box where it "belongs."

Under the guidance of the 9 "sages" we have a welfare system which enables loafers to collect more after-tax dollars than workers. So 12,000 persons are added to the welfare rolls in Texas every month. Other states are comparable.

A "free" people can no longer protect themselves from criminals because the highest court refuses to allow the most sadistic murderers to be eliminated from the society they seek to destroy.

Our lovely land is deluged with filth because the nauseating 9 cannot recognize obscenity when they see it.

The criminals who prey on our society are provided with the best defense available at the expense of their victims.

The authorities from one of our leading churches contributed $10,000 to defend an avowed atheistic communist accused of furnishing guns to assassinate a judge.

An alarming number of our senators elected by the people and entrusted with the defense of our nation consistently vote for policies designed to destroy us.

The generation credited with the most brilliant defense of freedom and humanitarianism in the annals of history has also achieved greater advances in science and technology than all the generations before them. But because Dr. Spock, loafers, criminals, drug addicts, traitorous politicians, and permissive courts have defiled our society, good men are supposed to feel guilty.

The God-fearing, law-abiding nation that achieved world leadership through industry and thrift has allowed God to be banished from the schools, and the police to be shackled while crime and indolence are rewarded and industry and thrift are penalized.

The nation that stamped its coins "In God We Trust" has transferred its trust to the coins instead.

No nation in recorded history has survived the policies current in America. It is incredible so many good Americans are quietly allowing themselves to be destroyed.

If we can't believe what we see, can we expect posterity to believe what they read?

Driving Makes Woman Clean House Keeper

BY MARGO CRABTREE

In broken English, with a quick smile, and lots of laughter, Ines Cataldi relates how she "finally" passed the driving test and is now a full-fledged driver — with a license.

But the battle to drive isn't near over. This woman, who has supported herself and a son for more than 16 years, found driving her biggest challenge. And many times the past year she vowed to never drive, and begged to be released from lessons a friend was giving.

But Mrs. Scott Downing wouldn't let her give up.

It all began a year ago when Mrs. Downing decided the time had come for Ines to really learn the knack of driving a car.

"She had walked everywhere since she has been in the United States," Mrs. Downing explained. "And I felt she would feel better if she could drive."

So the lessons began, slowly and painfully, for the Italian who came to America in 1954 with her small son.

All fall and winter and into the spring, Mrs. Downing would pick Mrs. Cataldi up, drive to the country, and instruction would begin.

"We drove a lot on the high school parking lots on Sunday afternoons," Mrs. Downing declared. "Ines could learn to park, back up and we practiced parallel parking."

"Her husband built standards to help me learn to parallel park," Ines recalled.

But the basics of driving didn't bother Ines — it was the emotional aspect that gave her the most problem, and still is.

"One day Ines was driving along and a car backed out in front of us — with no driver," Mrs. Downing recalled.

"I told her to stop, and she was well enough trained to do just that immediately."

"She stopped the car, looked at me, lifted her shoulders and questioned, 'What do I do now? There is no driver in that car,'" Mrs. Downing continued.

The test time proved to be highly emotional for the ladies.

"I waited in the courthouse for her while she took the test," Mrs. Downing remembered.

And she tells of watching as she drove up, and the officer and Ines sat in the car and talked a few minutes.

"When I looked up again, Ines came in the courthouse, weeping so hard she couldn't talk," Mrs. Downing said. "I knew she had not passed the test, and I was sick. But I got her around the corner so people would quit staring at us, and when she calmed down she told me she had passed it."

Ines recalls when the officer told her she had passed the driving test.

"I grabbed his arm and just started crying, and he told me, 'Oh, Mrs. Cataldi, don't cry', but I couldn't stop," she remembered.

But the fun of driving hasn't set in for Mrs. Cataldi. It is still a chore — and a tiring one.

She told one friend that she cleans her house continually since she learned to drive.

"Why?" asked the friend.

"Because if I have an accident and someone goes into my house I don't want them to see my closets dirty or my beds unmade," she explains.

And Monday morning when she drove to work, she wanted to avoid the traffic, so she got up an hour early and made it to work at 7 a.m. The beauty shop where she works opens at 8 a.m.

"But I didn't want to drive in traffic and I wanted to have plenty of room to park," she explains.

The day before her sister, Mrs. Kelli McBride, asked her to drive over for dinner around 6:30 p.m.

"Just to make sure I could get there, and to get it over with I arrived at 2 p.m.," Mrs. Cataldi laughingly noted.

But she is so proud of the drivers license, especially for her son Steve, who graduated from Canyon High School this year.

Steve is working in Georgia this summer with an uncle, and "he will be so proud of me when he finds out I have my drivers license," Ines believes.

Mrs. Cataldi came to Canyon in 1954 with her small son waiting on her husband who was going to close their business in Italy. She spoke no English, and while here stayed with her sister Mrs. McBride.

Cataldi finally made it to the United States in 1957, but was stricken ill on his arrival in Amarillo, and died of pneumonia a week later in an Amarillo hospital.

The woman had to support herself and her boy, and life was a struggle for many years. They both became U.S. citizens in 1960, and she entered the Amarillo Hairdressing School to learn hair styling.

She began working at Leona's Beauty Shop in Canyon after graduating, and has been there ever since.

Mrs. Cataldi was born in Sao Peolo, Brazil, after her parents had moved there in 1924 to escape the Fascist regime, but the family returned to Italy while she was still small. She was married to Vincenzo Cataldi in August, 1951.

But the years of grief have passed, and years of opportunity face Ines and Steve, who will enter West Texas State University this fall.

And the doors of opportunity are unlimited when you have a drivers license.

Ines Cataldi smiles bravely as she thinks about driving home from work one day. Mrs. Cataldi, who received her drivers license only recently, still finds driving a challenge and gets to work an hour early just to "miss the traffic and find a parking spot." Mrs. Scott Downing, right, was Mrs. Cataldi's driving instructor the past year.

Students Named To Honor Rolls

Two University of Texas students from Canyon have been named to the spring semester honor roll at the University.

Kay Nester was named to the honor roll of the School of Communication. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have completed 15 or more semester hours of graded work with a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher.

Robert Courtney Olson was named to the honor roll in the College of Engineering. Eligibility is based upon a student's having maintained at least a 12-semester-hour course load with a minimum grade-point average of 3.25.

Mrs. Warwick Satisfactory

Mrs. Clyde Warwick of Canyon is listed in satisfactory condition in Neblett Memorial Hospital.

Attending physician said she is resting well and will remain in the hospital for several more days.

San Angelo Grid Star WT Signee

San Angelo's Gary Lacy has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with West Texas State University to play football.

The former San Angelo Central High School athlete is 6-0 and 195 pounds.

During his senior year at Central he rushed for over 1,000 yards and earned all-district honors. He led the district in punting with a 44.5 yard average.

A three-year letterman in baseball, he earned second team all-district honors his senior year.

At Wharton Junior College this past season he rushed for over 750 yards and led the conference in kickoff and punt returns. He averaged over 30 yards per kickoff return and over 14 yards per punt return.

When Wharton played Blinn Junior College in the Fort Bend Shrine Bowl game in Houston Lacy was named as the game's outstanding offensive player.

Lacy was also named as Wharton's most valuable player. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lacy has 4.6 speed in the 40-yard dash.

A pre-veterinary major, Lacy is able to transfer to West Texas after one year in Junior College because of his outstanding scholastic record at Wharton.

Diana Lynn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hill, was chosen Lion's Club queen of the evening Lion's Club Monday night. She was judged mainly on her biographical presentation.

Lion's Club Names Queen

Diana Lynn Hill, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hill of Rt 2, Canyon, was selected as the evening Lion's Club Queen Monday night.

First runner-up was Shelley Davis. Kathy Dilworth and Nicci Johnston were third and fourth runners-up.

Judged on the short biography each wrote, Diana was chosen to represent the Lion's Club in the district convention next year by the members present at the meeting. Jan Henson, Day Lion's Club queen, presented each of the four girls.

A senior at Canyon High School, Miss Hill was selected as junior Who's Who and is a member of Future Homemakers of America, National Honor Society and 4-H. Her interests include sewing, art, sports and recreation, camping and hiking, playing the piano, folk and square dancing and modeling.

Diana has been president of her local 4-H club as well as having held other offices on a local and county level and being a junior leader. She has participated in the Texas State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University three times, once in clothing education and twice in entomology. She has won numerous clothing awards and has modeled in the District I 4-H Dress Revue several times as a junior and senior. Diana has received the "Best Model" award for two years and represented District I in the Texas State 4-H Dress Revue in Dallas this year.

The 4-H'er this year designed the heading for "The Eagle's Tale." One of her paintings is now being judged in New York. Diana also makes costumes for high school musicals.

The Queen also participated in the Make It Yourself With Wool contest last year for which she received a trip to San Antonio to compete in the state contest. At the state level she was awarded a $100 bond and an all-expense paid trip to Denver, Colo., to represent Texas in the national finals. Placing third in that competition she received a $500 scholarship to the college of her choice. She says she would like to attend Ambassador College in Big Sandy.

Diana was also one of the "top ten" in the Miss Canyon 1971 pageant.

Corn Leaf Aphids Spray Overdone

Area entomologists with Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service reports that unnecessary spraying for corn leaf aphids has occurred in the Plains area during the past two weeks, according to Randall County Agent John Brazzil.

Dr. Don Rummel says that most of this spraying was unnecessary from the standpoint of preventing significant economic damage and has only served to increase production costs and destroy beneficial insect populations.

This same source reports that greenbugs, not to be confused with the corn leaf aphid, have increased, but greenbug infestations are much lighter and more scattered than at this time last year.

tered than at this time last year.

Brazzil reports that guides for insect control on grain sorghum have been revised for 1971. This guide recommends that frequent field inspections be made for greenbugs and that insecticides be applied when general infestations of a field are discovered and leaf damage has occurred.

The size of the plant, positive identification of greenbugs, the presence or absence of beneficial insects, and the extent of infestation plus the change in numbers made by frequent inspections should all be considered when making the decision to apply insecticides for greenbug control.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Gene Howe News

BY PAULINE HEFLEY

If one weren't careful, one might think that a large portion of the Gene Howe patrons are doing some research on the horse situation in Raton. Seen recently at the track there were Johnny and Phyllis Hicks, Chink and Gail Betty, David and Jessie Coronado, Raymond and Lyda Freeman, and Ronnie and Tonya Holt. Understand the Freemans then tottled on up to Colorado Springs.

Also taking a trip to Colorado — up to Monument Lake — were the Robert Kennedy clan. Mrs. K. says many of the others were catching fish, but they didn't have too much luck — however, they did have a nice trip. I'll bet young Bruce really had fun.

Welcome to the Gene Howe area — Sally Tucker — who will be a teachers' aide at Gene Howe next year. The David Camfields have gone to Arkansas — will have to get a full report from them.

Happy Birthday to Suzan Burkart.

Those Herbert McGregors really know how to do things up top-shelf. Monday evening they had approximately 55 to 60 people over for, shall we say, an end of the baseball season cookout, except for the tournament games. In any event, the food was delicious and a simply great time was had by all. Herbert turned out to be the chef. The kids jumped on the trampoline until their hearts were content, and had such untidy things as ice fights. But, thanks to the McGregors for a delightful evening. Incidentally, the Gene Howe Leprecons defeated the Southlawn school 27 to 21 — whippie! Now on to the playoff — best of luck, Leprecons.

Happy Birthday to Raymond Freeman on Euclid Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Carden from Austin, Texas and their three daughters were recently the houseguests of the Harold Loveladys on Beacon Road.

You ought to see Betty Oglesby — is she ever picking them up and putting 'em down lightly. Seems as though she recently was in the hospital and had her feet operated on — would you believe several incisions between several toes on both feet — ouch! that smarts. But we are glad to report that she is improving all the time and is now back doing her thing in the busy world of real estate.

Speaking of the Oglesbys — and we were — that Brad left for Roanoke, Virginia with Sandra (Boggs) McNeil for a visit. His mother says that he will stay 'til they send him home or she sends for him. Now that boy may be in for a long stay.

We're happy to report that Cora Team (Mrs. Bill) on Gary is now home from the hospital. Welcome home, Cora, and a bit of cheer is sent your way via this column.

The Dick Balke family and the John Dozier family recently motored over to Carlsbad. Had a nice trip I understand, however, while the Doziers were gone their house was flooded due to a broken water pipe and they have recently been residing in a motel.

I tell you a body just has to get out when water is up to your ankles in your own home or you could easily have web feet. (That's what's known as poetic license).

That Patsy Baldridge (Mrs. Stanley) dropped a lantern on her foot while at the lake and broke her foot — thus she is now sporting a cast — however hopes to have a walking cast soon. We hope so too.

Saw Eddie Carroll at the ballgame recently and asked him if they had had any birthdays, anniversaries, or company, etc. He said no birthdays, no anniversaries, and ain't had no company — said he guessed nobody liked 'em.

The Don Wilcox family went to Meredith Lake fishing — didn't catch any fish, but had a good time — four families went with all their kids.

Mrs. Carl "Willy-etta" Johnson and son, David, motored up to Parker, South Dakota to pick up daughter, Cindy. They were gone about a week and saw some beautiful country. Mrs. J. says Cindy was a back seat driver all the way home. I'll tell you there ain't nothing like have a teenager taking driver's ed — they can quote you the statistics in every kind of situation.

I had a distinct advantage when I learned to drive — Mother didn't know how to drive, and everything I did she would say — you're doing fine, Pauline.

Happy Birthday to Stanley Baldridge.

The Bob Curlee family (wife, Carlene, and chillums, Lucinda, Belinda, Byron, and Andrea,) motored up thru the Ozark Mountains. Went by Monticello, and back thru Dallas. Understand that they really had a good trip.

Happy birthday to Jerry Cannon.

Happy birthday to Barbara Rudd.

Happy anniversaries to Mr. and Mrs. Duane Howard.

Y'all keep sending me your news. pmh.

Landusers Assistance Available

Cost-share assistance is available to Randall County landusers for the installation of 21 conservation practices through the Great Plains Conservation Program, according to John O'Connor, head of the local Soil Conservation Service Office.

Practices for which landusers can receive cost-share assistance in Randall County result in improvement of our environment while conserving our resources.

These practices are range seeding, reseeding of depleted rangeland, windbreaks, and shelterbelts, grassed waterways, parallel terraces, diversion terraces, erosion control structures, grade stabilization structures, irrigation pipelines, land leveling, wells for livestock water, farm ponds, pipelines for livestock water, brush control, fences, critical area treatment, irrigation tailwater recovery systems, disposal lagoons, recreation land grading and shaping, water storage facilities, and shallow water areas development, stated O'Connor.

Since the Great Plains Conservation Program came into existence in 1957 contracts have been developed on 144 operating units covering over one-fourth of the land in Randall County.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Gerald

Funeral services for a Canyon pioneer and former school marm were conducted Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. Bill Foil of the Canyon First Baptist Church officiating.

Mrs. Martha Alice Gerald, 90, was buried in Dreamland Cemetery.

Pallbearers included Boone McClure, Mitchell Jones, Roy Cheatem, Newton Crain, Cleve Jones, and Alvin McDonald.

Mrs. Gerald died at 3:45 a.m. Monday in LaCasa

Canyon Nursing Home.

She was born July 26, 1880 in Evans and married Ed Gerald in 1905 in her hometown. The couple moved to Canyon in 1916 where they opened a rooming house and in 1932 turned the rooming house into an hotel.

The hotel has remained at its location at 1902 Fourth Ave. since it was first occupied by the Gerald.

Mr. Gerald died in 1965.

Mrs. Gerald was a member of the First Baptist Church since 1916 and belonged to the Kings Daughters Sunday School Class of that church.

She was an early day school teacher and was a past worthy matron of Eastern Star Lodge of Canyon.

Survivors include two sons, Dr. James Edward Gerald of Minneapolis, Minn., and Pat Gerald of Sweetwater; one brother, W. D. Hunter of Floresville; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Matlock of 1902 Fourth Ave.; four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

JUST WHAT IS A SLIPPED DISC?

It is really a ruptured disk. The spinal cord is a column of nerves running through the vertebrae. Between each pair of vertebrae is a soft spongy disk to allow the spine to bend and curve. It acts as a shock absorber. If sufficient strain occurs, this disk tears. The softer material oozes out into the spinal canal and presses against the spinal cord, causing severe pain.

A ruptured disk more often occurs after age 25. As one ages, the sturdy, elastic tissue, that gives the disk the support to sustain the vertebrae weakens. Usually bed rest, traction, or a support will help. A physician should be consulted.

Phone Strike Hits Canyon

If a man answers, don't hang up. It's the Southwestern Bell Telephone management serving as operators during a nation-wide strike which is affecting the Canyon phone business.

Mike Patrick, district manager, said non-management employees of the phone company left their jobs Wednesday as a result of picket lines established by striking Western Electric employees.

Patrick explained that the Canyon office has not been affected so far. The business office is still open and the installers are on the job. "Canyon people should not be affected except when making long distance phone calls through Amarillo, because Amarillo office has been affected by the strike."

He pointed out that in Hereford 50 per cent of the phone company business office had walked off their jobs and 100 per cent of the people in the switch room did not appear. A percentage on the number of operators off their jobs in Hereford was not available at press time Wednesday.

The strike began at 5 a.m. Wednesday.

An exact count of the number of employees who walked off the job was not immediately available.

Patrick emphasized that the strike now in progress is between Western Electric Company and the Communications Workers of America. At issue in the strike are terms of a new contract for employees of Western Electric.

"This strike does not involve either Southwestern Bell or its employees," he said. "Contract negotiations for Southwestern Bell employees represented by the CWA are scheduled for mid-year. Meanwhile, the contract between Southwestern Bell and CWA, which will not expire until July 17, remains in full effect."

The manager also noted that the phone company employees now off jobs are union-represented employees who are reluctant to cross CWA picket lines.

So, until the strike is settled, when you dial 0 a man may answer, but don't hang up.

Astros First In League

The Astros finished first in Little League season play with a 13-3 record according to Calvin Davis.

Second place team was the Dodgers with an 11-5 record. Other teams were Yankees, third with 6-9; Red Legs, fourth with 4-11; and Braves, fifth with 4-11.

All except two teams completed the season after playing all 16 games.

Little League All-Star game will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Dimmitt. "We would like to have all the support we can get," said Richard Pruett, Little League president.

Three-Phase Program At WT Prepares Instructors

BY JERRY MONTGOMERY
Even the best drivers may find themselves having accidents behind the wheel of a drive-trainer simulator.

Seventeen men have completed a course at West Texas State University to learn new methods of instructing driver's education under a new three-phase program, including use of the drive-trainer simulator.

The program was offered for the first time this summer at WTSU under a $50,000 federal grant, which paid for the new equipment. Fifteen men took the course through scholarships and two paid their own expenses. They have been working with the drive-trainer and the drive-cator, as well as a driving range. Six hours graduate credit was offered for the course which began May 31.

The course is being offered for the first time in Texas this year to eight colleges and universities, selected because of geographical location and interest in the program. Each of the institutions received a $20,000 grant through the Texas Education Agency.

Simulators put the student in as nearly realistic a situation as possible to behind-the-wheel driving. An instructor's console evaluates the students' weaknesses. The instructor can determine what the student is doing wrong behind the simulator wheel. Each student's position is numbered and the automatic programmer determines where the driver is at fault, whether he didn't apply the brakes hard enough or wrong use of turn signals, etc. The programmer determines the number of mistakes the student is making and in what areas he is making those mistakes.

The simulator is built like the driver's seat of an automobile, complete with lights to indicate use of seat belt and parking brakes and seat adjuster. The simulator dash has turn indicators and speedometer that actually shows speed when the student accelerates. A clutch pedal may be raised or lowered for use as a simulated standard or automatic transmission.

A film strip projects the student drivers into driving situations which explain ways to handle the difficult driving conditions or situations, such as avoiding wrecks or unsuitable weather conditions. The situation projected on the screen places the student in the car behind the wheel and gives him the feeling of the situation.

There are 20 films provided with the simulator program, beginning with simpler techniques of hand positions on the wheel to more difficult ones of rain slick highways.

Before the use of the simulator, however, is the drive-cator or the multi-media training. Men in the course learned the use of the multi-media equipment for training student drivers. The multi-media unit is used to supplement the system of driver's education now being used.

The unit contains 18 programs including film strips, a movie and a tape which run through the dual tape on the computer console. The workings of the three are synchronized on the computer to start and stop at varying times.

The 19-32 minute programs present information, maneuvers and test questions. The computer grades the tests, records the grades and gives the percentage of students who responded correctly with buttons on their desk panels.

For the third phase of the program, a driving range has been set up at the Buffalo stadium parking lot for actual behind-the-wheel training, although it is for "elementary driving," said Eural Ramsey, director of the program. "Through manipulator skills, we can simulate actual on-the-street driving," said Fred Barney of Hurst-Bell, instructor of the course.

Eight cars have been furnished for the range driving by Stevenson Motor Co. Radio antennas are placed on top of the car so that students driving the car can be controlled from the tower built for instructors. Students at the driving range are able to do exercises such as lane changing and passing.

Instructors for the course were Barney and Lonnie Nichols of West Texas State University.

Men enrolled in the instructor's class were from Amarillo, Canyon, Dumas, El Paso, Sunray, Levelland, Paducah, Pampa, Lamesa, Snyder, Andrews and Brownfield. The course was offered through the department of physical education.

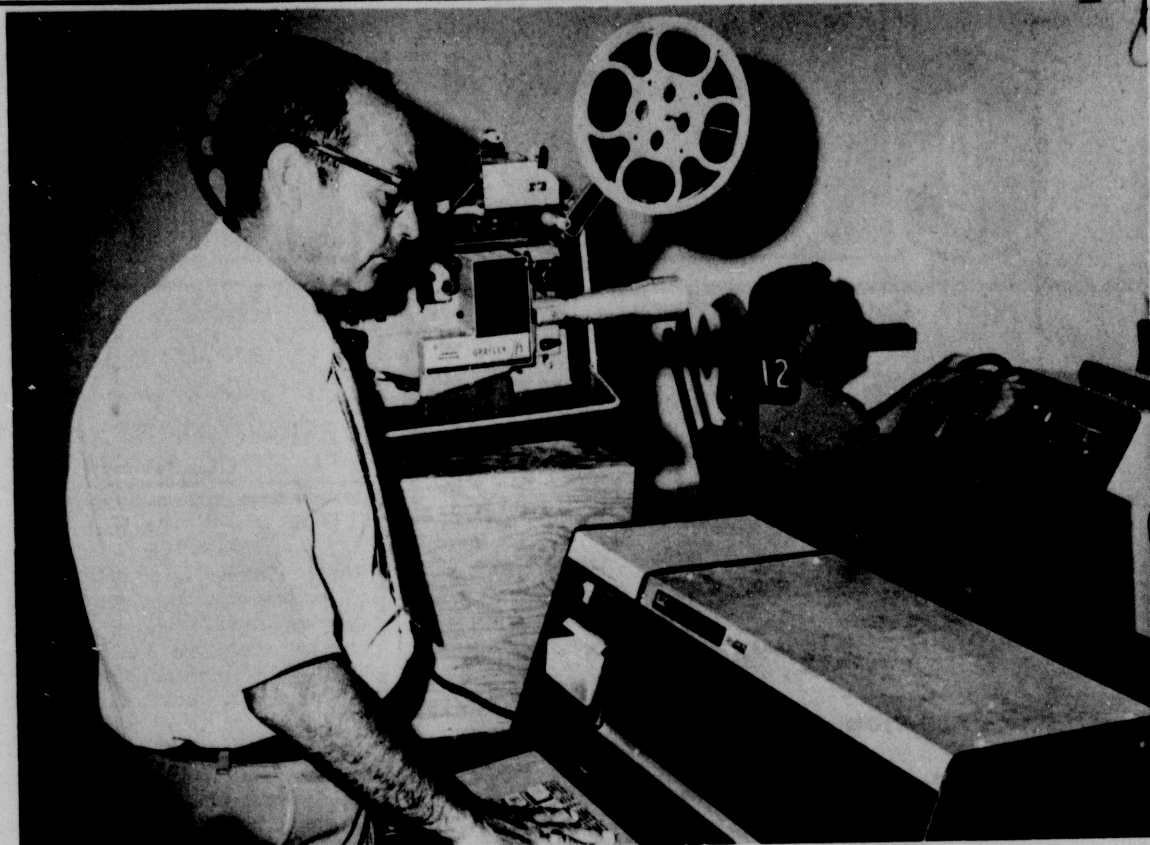

Most of the men have already been teaching driver's education and were taking the course to learn the new methods of teaching driver's education.

Equipment for the program is by Educational Electronics. Films for the drive-trainer and drive-cator programs have been made by Aetna Life and Casualty.

A segment of the Buffalo Stadium parking lot has been designated as the driving range of the three-phase program for driver's education instructors just completed at West Texas State University. The range can accommodate eight cars for exercises such as in lane changing and passing.

Eural Ramsey, left, director of the program at West Texas State University for driving instructors, can tell by the computerized panel what mistakes his student, Willie McAlpin, is making on the simulated automobile panel. The panel, similar to a car dashboard, is for teaching students basic techniques before they have behind-the-wheel instruction in a car.

In Memorium

Perhaps no other time in a man's life is as difficult as when he stands by the side of one who has lost a loved one. One feels so inadequate when he tries to say a word that will comfort those who weep. But in the passing of our husband and father, we have found that it isn't what someone says or does that is important; it is their presence and thoughts that count. To see a friend who only stands with a tear in his eye, or to shake his trembling hand, says so very much. It was John Milton who said, "They also serve, who only stand and wait." So in the passing of others, let us not worry about what we will say or what we can do; but rather, let us stand silently by and weep with those who weep and in so doing, it's as if the fountains of heaven have been opened and showered its blessings upon an otherwise dry and barren land. We love you all more now than before because we saw in each of you more of Him radiated into our lives. Thank you all again.

The Ross Craig Family

"TEXAS" Flags
Are Missing

Some 10 "TEXAS" flags are missing, and Eddie Knowles, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, calls the action "terrible."

"The flags are too expensive to have someone take 10 of them," Knowles said this week.

More than 100 flags line the Canyon streets during the summer months to emphasize the tourist season and the summer drama at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The Chamber of Commerce has purchased the flags and replaced the lost ones each year.

"If any citizen sees someone taking a flag, please contact the chamber or the police department," Knowles urged.

He emphasized that anyone discovered with a "TEXAS" flag will be prosecuted, but if they voluntarily return the flags Knowles will work with them.

Park, Library Board
Selected Tonight

Canyon City Commissioners face a heavy agenda tonight at 7 o'clock in the Community Center for their regular meeting.

City Manager George Louder will present a preliminary CATV report from other cities following a request earlier this month for a CATV franchise.

Louder was instructed at that time to see how other cities are handling the CATV question.

The council will also consider library and park board members. Commissioners have voiced a desire to investigate a possible second park in the southeastern section of the city near the sewer treatment plant. The park will investigate the possibility of receiving matching funds from state resources, according to Louder.

Louder said he has recommended a park board consisting of five members, and commissioners will decide those members in an executive session following the regular meeting tonight.

Louder has also recommended the city name a library board to help oversee the operation of the city library.

"Right now we have no board to help the city commissioners in running the library, and we need one," Louder said.

The board will also discuss property damage insurance coverage for city employees.

employees.

At the present time employees are not covered by the city for any property damage suits, but the commissioners agreed at the last meeting to protect the city employees in case of an accident in property damage suits.

Bob Lindsey will appear before the council to submit a property damage claim for a cracked windshield to a pickup.

In other business, the city will consider an annexation ordinance on property adjacent to Pioneer Estates, and will consider the final plat in Pioneer Estates.

City...

"The time is past when we can just let things happen as they may," he declared. "We must plan, and that means spending money now and not seeing results for many years to come."

The women's chamber members were requested by the men's chamber to help with the serving of barbeque at the Canyon Days Celebration dinner July 24 in Conner Park.

Kenneth Thompson gave a report on the parade which will begin at 10 a.m. July 24 and will include 37 entries not including the Pony Express teams.

George S. Oliver Jr., left, and Carroll Doshier are looking over the heifer to be presented to the Nance project, for which Doshier is a promoter, by Mrs. Frank Kimbrough. "Dusty" Oliver, 16, is the grandson of Mrs. Kimbrough and the great nephew of the late George Nance in whose name land for the project was given by his widow, Mrs. George Nance Jones. Dusty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Oliver, of Ft. Belvoir, Va. He is visiting with his grandmother.

Umberger
News

BY SUSAN DOLLE
Visitors coming and going is the order of July days in the Umberger community. The list includes several people from Germany.

Visiting the Joe Grotguts is his mother, Maria Grotgut of Greffen, Westfalen. She and her companion, Miss Anna Heckman of Muenster will be in the United States for twenty-nine days.

Mr. Heinrich Wieck of Wadersloh, Westfalen is visiting his first cousins in Texas. Mr. and Mrs. John Wieck will be his hosts during his stay.

Visiting the W. P. Jannasens this week were Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Kleitch of Cedar Falls, Iowa. Mrs. Kleitch had lived in Tulia during her childhood and came to renew acquaintances.

Mrs. Bill Bauer attended a family reunion in Windthorst over the July 4 week.

Hospital...

(Continued from page 1) complete laboratory but houses no doctors' offices and no pharmacy. "We want to leave everything to the private sector we can," he went on.

Cheevers said he sees no reason a 50-bed hospital in Canyon cannot be run on a self-supporting basis just like the one he administers in Dumas.

Accreditation is highly desirable but not absolutely necessary to operation of a hospital, according to Glenn Higginbotham, administrator of Swisher Memorial Hospital at Tulia.

The Swisher County hospital is not accredited although Higginbotham hopes it will be at some time in the future. The Tulia hospital has not yet made an application for accreditation.

He said the hospital comes under more rigid surveillance by inspectors from medicare and medicaid than it would if it were accredited but patients under these programs are treated in the hospital.

Medicare people inspect the hospital annually and they inspect everything whereas if the hospital were accredited they would inspect only the utilization plan of the facility in connection with medicare patients, Higginbotham reported.

Higginbotham said he doesn't know whether accreditation or lack of it will affect treatment of medicare and medicaid patients in the future but he doubts that it will.

"As long as we meet their standards I don't think it will make any difference," he asserted.

Likewise, he said patients there have had no trouble in collecting from insurance companies due to lack of accreditation for the hospital.

Swisher Memorial is a 30-bed hospital facility.

Higginbotham said the tax rate there is 53 cents providing $90,000 in revenue of which $30,000 goes to bond retirement and $60,000 into the operating fund of the hospital.

Deaf Smith County has been accredited since 1957 and T. E. Seigler, its administrator, counts this status as well high indispensable.

"It is the only yard stick to determine whether you have a good hospital," he said. "Medicare people emulate the standards of accreditation and they never bother us."

The Hereford hospital is operated by a brand new hospital district voted only in May. It assumed a bond obligation of $925,000.

It is a 79-bed facility and it rooms run from vanilla to the deluxe model with telephone, television, tub and shower as well as carpet.

The best room is $41 a day, well below a comparable room in Amarillo.

In spite of writing off $144,000 in uncollectable accounts and care for indigents last year, the hospital is self-supporting. Seigler says it has been in the black for the past 20 years.

end. Her sister, Mrs. Harold Schaefer returned home with her and will visit for a week.

Mrs. Aline Lindemann is enjoying visits of her children. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woods and three children of Columbus, Ohio will be visiting until next Saturday. Sister Bertille Lindemann and her friend, Sister Mary Austin will arrive Friday and stay until August. And Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lindemann of San Antonio are also guests in her home.

Mrs. Amalia Bracht, OIC of the Umberger post office, attended the 68th annual state convention of the National League of Postmasters in Amarillo at the Villa Inn from Sunday through Wednesday. The meeting featured speeches concerning the new Postal Service which was inaugurated July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kleusens and Mr. and Mrs. Don Dolle will be representing the Umberger branch of the Catholic Life Insurance Union at its annual convention in San Angelo this weekend. The insurance meeting is held in conjunction with the Catholic State League meet. While there, the Panhandle group will present a bid for next year's convention in Amarillo.

A couple of short items. . . Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wieck, their daughter Jan and Valerie Friemel leave today for a week's vacation near Alamosa, Colorado. . . A get well message to Linda Thompson who spent a few days in the Amarillo hospitals. Linda returned home Monday afternoon. . . Congratulations to Anthony Handring and his new bride and to Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Donnell on their recent marriage.

Eagles...

"We have two or three boys back with experience in the secondary."

Mills ticked off such defenders as Darrell Curtis, Kenny Jones, James Johnson, Roger Burton, Raby Ratliff, Rocky Chambers, Bob Glisar and Mike Shaddix.

Defensive linebackers will include Bill Moore, David Wilkerson, Larry Prichard, Don Minier and Matt Hansen.

Defensive ends will include Fred Grona, Roy Markham, Eddie Jacobs and Mike Podzemny.

Mills singled Markham out for praise.

"Markham could turn out to be our best defensive lineman," the coach declared. "He will definitely be a defensive starter unless someone else looks real good."

He named Kent Zevely and Tim Basher in the defensive secondary.

Defensive guards who have caught the eye of the coach include Lynn Holmes, David Wilkerson, Gary Cox, Bobby Team, Glenn Stoker, Tommy Ritchie, David Hernandez, Don Bentley, Tom Wilson and Jay White.

"Jay White is one of the most talented boys we have out there," Mills declared.

Mills said Van James and Larry Prichard have the inside track on the offensive guard positions. Prichard was all-district last year. Other guards are Gary McBride, Gary Cox and Don Minier.

Lynn Holmes and Sammy Kerbel will be offensive centers.

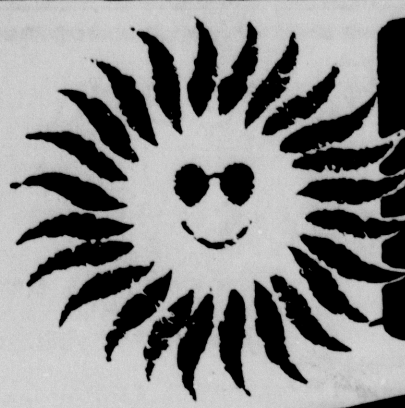

Running backs will include Cliff Prichard, Rick Edmondson, Bill Moore, Mike Shaddix, Wayne Ramsey, Matt Hansen, Tim Basher, Don Prichard and Kent Zevely.

"I've probably left several boys out who will be mentioned later," the coach asserted. "Also we have several talented sophomores who may be moved up to the varsity."

Football boys will get their equipment Aug. 11 and begin working out twice a day Aug. 16. Workouts will be from 7:30 until 9 in the morning and from 7 until 9 evenings.

Mills said several teams the Eagles must face in 1971 will be stronger than last year.
